MPIC: Already a Success Story

Blair Rogacki, Municipal Property Insurance Company CEO

Oftentimes, historical reviews of milestone ventures are offered years after the event has occurred. The story of the Municipal Property Insurance Company (MPIC) is an exception to that rule.

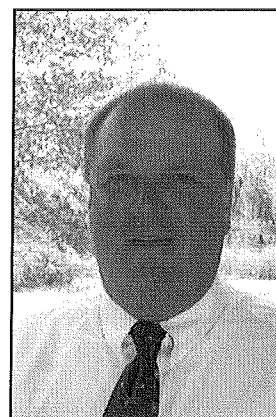

Our story, the MPIC story, began just a year ago, in early 2015 when Governor Walker proposed the Wisconsin State Budget. Included in the budget was a provision to eliminate the Local Government Property Insurance Fund (LGPIF).

For decades the LGPIF provided a comprehensive and economical property insurance solution for local units of government. In recent years however, the LGPIF has run into financial difficulties, largely due to the coalescing of several dire circumstances; severe loss experience, the declaration of a $10,000,000 policyholder dividend, and structural rate and property valuation deficiencies.

With the potential demise of the LGPIF on the radar, calls from local governments across the state started to ring out for a replacement. Administrators at the League of Wisconsin Municipalities Mutual Insurance (LWMMI), Cities and Village Mutual Insurance Company (CVMIC) and Wisconsin Municipal Mutual Insurance Company (WMMIC) all fielded similar calls from their insureds, asking for help. Upon review, each entity determined that the best solution wasn't to provide property insurance as an additional coverage through their already successful liability and worker's compensation programs, but instead to work together. This led to the capitalization and formation of MPIC.

MPIC was designed by the leadership of LWMMI, CVMIC and WMMIC to specifically address the unique property insurance needs of Wisconsin local governments. With each entity contributing $3,000,000 cash to start operations, the Office of the Commissioner of Insurance granted MPIC a Certificate of Authority on July 29th, 2015. Shortly thereafter, MPIC finalized its reinsurance treaties and administrative Blair Rogacki is the CEO for the Municipal Property Insurance Company (MPIC). As CEO, Mr. Rogacki is responsible for the oversight and management of all facets of underwriting, claims and insured services. Mr. Rogacki has over 22 years of commercial insurance experience, including 15 years working with municipal mutual insurance companies. In addition to his degree in Political Science, he has earned the CPCU (Chartered Property and Casualty Underwriter) designation. He can be reached at brogacki@mpicwi.com.

contracts, to begin offering premium quotations.

On September 1, 2015 MPIC officially entered the insurance marketplace, writing its first policy for the City of New London. This would prove to be the beginning of something very big. By the end of November, just 60 days later, MPIC had written 165 policies with almost $5,000,000 in premium.

During the first month of full operations, the MPIC Board of Directors worked very closely with the administrative contractors to ensure that things ran smoothly until they were able to hire a CEO. I started as the new MPIC CEO on October 1, 2015.

My insurance background is primarily founded in working with mutual insurance companies and Wisconsin public entities including counties, cities, villages, towns and schools. My primary experience is with product and program design, reinsurance and underwriting. I believe these strengths provide MPIC a leadership foundation to build from while it grows from a start-up company to a premier property insurance solution.

MPIC is the result of a shared vision and combined efforts of individuals and insurance companies that truly understand and care about the unique insurance needs of Wisconsin municipal governments. There is truly something historic happening with the development and success of MPIC. I encourage everyone with questions or concerns about your property insurance to reach out to your LWMMI agent, ask about MPIC, and learn how we can help you.

City won't pay twice the price for insurance Facing a large premium increase, Eau Claire intends to go through new vendor for building, fleet coverage

Nov. 1, 2015 12:00 a.m. (CDT)
by Andrew Dowd

A woman crashed a car into the side of Eau Claire City Hall on April 9, 2013. The city got a $105,100 insurance payment for repairs to the building.

Facing a property insurance premium that would double next year, Eau Claire plans to leave a state-run program for a different provider of coverage for government buildings, equipment and vehicles.

Wisconsin's Local Government Property Insurance Fund used by many counties, cities and villages is increasing premiums to stay viable after it nearly was eliminated during state budget talks.

"Throughout the summer, we all thought LGPIF was going to be discontinued completely," said Dale Peters, assistant city manager.

Ultimately state leaders agreed to keep the fund created in 1903 to insure government property, but it also agreed with an average 85 percent increase in premiums from members.

"Part of it is a reflection of the actual costs of running the fund," said J.P. Wieske, legislative liaison and public information officer for the state Office of the Commissioner of Insurance.

The increase varied by member. For the city of Eau Claire, it turned out to be about 100 percent. Eau Claire paid a $100,266 premium in 2015 but is quoted at $200,216 for next year, according to Colleen Schian, the city's risk manager.

Switch planned

Peters is pitching that Eau Claire, like other cities, should switch to a new insurance company that swiftly was created earlier this year in reaction to the state's decisions.

"Many municipalities in the state of Wisconsin are switching from LGPIF to this new company formed by these three other insurance companies," he said.

Three providers of insurance to local governments — League of Wisconsin Municipalities Mutual Insurance, Cities & Villages Mutual Insurance Co. and Wisconsin Municipal Mutual Insurance Co. — created a new Mutual Property Insurance Co. that began writing policies in fall.

An August article in the League of Wisconsin Municipalities' monthly magazine quoted leaders of the three parent companies who said financial stability is the primary aim of the new insurance.

Peters expects to present the insurance change to the City Council in December for approval.

Eau Claire still expects to pay more for insuring its buildings, equipment and vehicles next year but not what the state fund would cost. The draft 2016 budget estimates premiums would be up about $40,000.

Crashes, fires

The city has $350 million in property covered by that insurance plan, which came in handy in recent years.

Since 2010, Eau Claire filed 10 claims under the state's Local Government Property Insurance Fund, which paid out $333,300 to cover the city's losses.

That includes $105,100 after a motorist drove a car into City Hall on April 9, 2013, and $216,000 for a May 10, 2012, fire that destroyed a truck and damaged the wastewater treatment plant.

Other incidents in a copy of the city's claim history include collisions involving city vehicles and a small fire in a park pavilion.

Fund difficulties

The state's insurance fund for government property has existed for more than a century but ran into financial difficulty in recent years. The fund ended its 2014 fiscal year in the red by $15.5 million and its once healthy surplus sat at negative $1.4 million.

The state's Office of the Commissioner of Insurance blamed the fund's problems to a $12 million credit the Assembly gave to policyholders in 2010 after the fund's surplus topped $40 million, according to budget documents.

In following years, the insurance fund was struck by a large volume of claims tied to fire- and weather-related events, including a July 2013 fire at the Milwaukee County Courthouse. The fund already has paid $19.1 million alone for that courthouse claim, though there is an ongoing lawsuit — now in the 7th Circuit Court of Appeals — between the state insurance fund and its third-party reinsurer for large claims, Lexington Insurance Co.

At the end of 2014, there were 969 local governments in the state fund, according to state budget documents. That included almost every county government; the majority of cities, villages and school districts; and 134 other special taxing entities including library systems, sewage districts and public utilities.

As of mid-September, 801 local governments still had their insurance through the fund. There are no predictions being made about the number of participants next year, Wieske said.

613 Main Street
Colfax, WI 54730-0417

Dear Lynn:

Thanks for the opportunity to submit our bid for a professional survey and preparation of a Map of Survey (or a Certified Survey Map later if required) for the existing Park Drive and Soo Park as shown on the Plat of Clark's re-plat of Park Addition. The survey will include all lands between the plat and the railroad property (possible railroad property that that has been abandoned) and mapped or platted parcels westerly and easterly of the Soo Park.

We have received a copy of the title work that you had completed on this area and I also have maps that we had from our files or from research at the County. We will complete enough field surveying to draw all these parcels and street or adjacent streets and complete a map that can be used for your court case to clear title on this property.

The new Map (CSM if required plus County fees or recording fees) will be done for a fee of not to exceed $2750.00, This does include any review or recording fees if we do create a CSM and if we don't need the CSM we can complete a map of survey for a fee not to exceed $2000.00.

If you authorize us to proceed we would be able to start the mapping and complete our survey within the next two to three weeks and have a map for the Village to review. Please sign and return one copy of this proposal to our office by E-mail or fax. This will serve as our authorization to proceed on this project.

Thanks again for considering Cedar Corporation for this project. Please contact me at your convenience, at 1-800-472-7372, if you have any questions.

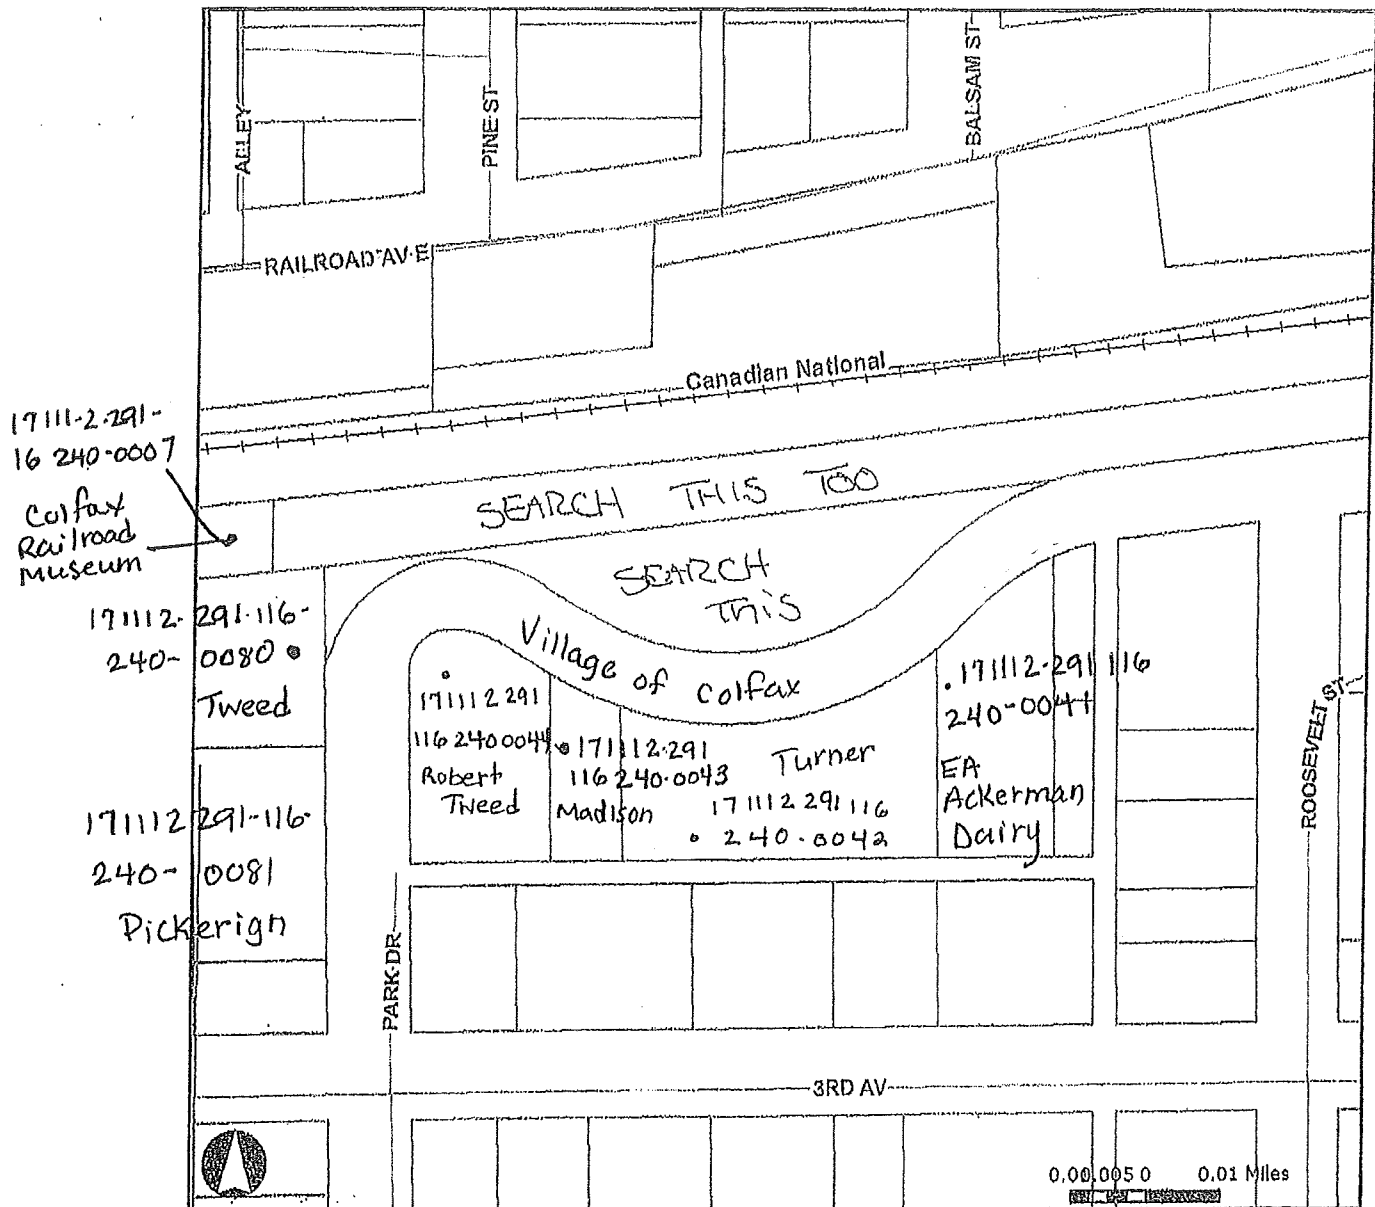

Sincerely,

A company has been formed and a move is on foot to annex the tract of land just south of the Soo Line station as an addition to the village, and a portion of the survey it is planned to set aside as a park to be beautified with trees and flowers. Then a park drive is to be a part of the addition, which in all will be a fine improvement to the village, if carried out according to present plans. Geo. T. Vorland, G. W. Emmerton, etal, are the promoters, and the company is styled the "Colfax Improvement Company."

THE MESSENGER is pleased to note this move for local improvement and wishes it the success it deserves.

Village of Colfax

Administrator-Clerk-Treasurer May 6, 2016

- Tower Park Update – I have had a few contacts with Mr. Eaton regarding timeline on work. The plumbers were scheduled to be on site from Thursday, May 5th through Monday May 9th, 2016. That has not happened yet. Mr. Eaton has placed a call to his sub-contractor as to the status of the Village job.
- The progress so far has been minimal. Wednesday, April 20th was the first day. A Breeze did prep work on Wednesday and Thursday. Thursday afternoon and Friday, concrete contractors prepped and pour concrete on the north side of the building. Wednesday, April 27th, the cement landing by the back door entrance was removed by the cement crew. Monday, May 2nd, the Village Public Works crew removed the asphalt as directed by A Breeze so that the plumbing work could begin.
- Once the north side of the building is complete, the rubber membrane and cement will be done on the west side of the building with a continual motion counter clockwise around the building. The Public Works Department moved the stump that was in the center of the park.
- The project was expected to take three weeks from start to finish, but we required that it be complete with green grass by June 30, 2016. Three weeks will be May 11, 2016. I will be expected an updated schedule from Tony the week of May 9th, 2016.
- The lights at the Tom Prince Memorial Park are in a hold status until we receive new ballasts.
- Health Insurance Update – We have renewed with Medica at the higher deductible plan effective May 1, 2016. We were waiting for underwriting from WEA Trust. I have received the WEA Trust underwriting back and they would accept our group beginning August 1, 2016 due to the timing of getting a new group implemented, etc. Due to some research regarding what the state law is regarding 30 hour employees in reference to Obama Care, the Personnel Committee will need to meet to review the health insurance in reference to self-funded plans as WEA Trust is considered self-funded. As for the time being, I am comfortable with the move to Medica.
- Chief Anderson and I have did a drive through the south side of town to identify properties that will be getting notice of unsightly properties, long grass and other violations. These letters take a lot of time identifying the property, their specific ordinance violation, and the violator. I hope to work on these letters the week of May 9th, 2016.
- The Village of Colfax employees should pat themselves on the back. Our Work Comp carrier dropped off our dividend check. Because of low work comp claims and/or low claims paid out, the Village received approximately $6,000 back. Continue safe work practices.
